JOHN PANGILINAN

Filipino Architect John was born on August 20, 1968 to a family of nine children. At four years old, John made a "floor plan" of what he envisioned to be a future home.

Pangilinan studied architecture at the University of the Philippines Diliman where he was apprenticed under Philippine National Artist and architect Bobby Mañosa. In 1999, he took his Post-Graduate Degree in Low Energy Architecture at the University of North London in United Kingdom, simultaneously completing other various courses at Cambridge University. He then established his own firm which is now known as JRP DESIGN, INC.

Please contact us for further information on our projects and services.

Thank you.
